Funding for CCSEM counseling and therapy services comes from multiple sources including client insurance, fees for service, grants, government contracts, and through many financial gifts from generous donors. CCSEM is a State of Michigan Region 10 provider of substance abuse treatment services made possible through state and federal funding.

Behavioral Health

Professional counseling can help change painful or destructive ideas, behaviors, or relationships, and help promote positive mental, spiritual, physical, and emotional well-being. All CCSEM clinicians have master's degrees and are licensed in the State of Michigan in social work, counseling, or psychology. CCSEM therapists design treatment plans unique to each individual, couple, or family to help address and resolve the issues hindering or disrupting their lives at work, school, and home.

CCSEM therapists can help with:

- Abusive behaviors
- Addictive behaviors
- Anger management
- Anxiety
- Caregiver stress
- Childhood and adolescent challenges
- Attention deficit disorders
- Bullying
- Chronic illness adjustments
- Court-ordered counseling
- Depression
- Domestic violence
- Family therapy
- Grief and loss
- Marriage and couples counseling
- Men's issues
- Obsessive compulsive disorder
- Older adult counseling services
- Post-traumatic stress
- Pre-marriage counseling
- Relationship conflicts
- Self-injury
- Stress management
- Substance use disorders
- Teen counseling
- Women's issues
- Workplace and industry-related issues

CCSEM Behavioral Health Services are accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF).

Family Support Services

Beyond counseling and therapy, CCSEM offers services in Lapeer County to heal and strengthen family relationships. Through Project Hope, CCSEM provides free supportive services to women who may be pregnant, are pregnant, or are parenting a child up to 12 months of age. Pregnancy testing and crisis pregnancy counseling are available to assist women considering life-affirming alternatives to abortion. Additional services include parenting, child development, and safety education. For women who choose life over abortion, Project Hope supportive services include a baby closet stocked with free diapers, formula, infant clothing, and other necessities.

Anger Management/ Domestic Violence Program

This 26 week-long group program is for people with legal and relationship issues resulting from the batterer's need for control over the relationship and others through physical, emotional, verbal, and sexual aggression and manipulation. The program is intended to improve the understanding of power and control in relationships, to be accountable, and to improve understanding of the effects of violence on all people involved. Skills to support a more equitable relationship are integrated into program content. CCSEM is a member of the Batterer Intervention Services Coalition of Michigan (BISC-MI), through which CCSEM facilitators are certified.

"The works of Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan are works of mercy. We are an instrument of God's love and mercy."

– Allen H. Vigneron, Archbishop of Detroit
President, Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan
