Catholic Charities' Adopt-a-Family Program Brightens Christmas for Families in Need

Seasonal aid initiative helped 175 local families afford Christmas gifts, medical bills and utilities this year

DETROIT — Christmas 2019 was a little brighter and more hopeful for several families in Metro Detroit, thanks to Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan’s seasonal Adopt-a-Family program.

Adopt-a-Family allows parishes and charitable organizations to nominate families in need across southeast Michigan, who receive monetary donations to help them afford Christmas gifts, utility and rent bills and household necessities during the holidays. This year, more than 60 parishes nominated 175 families, ranging in size from one-person households to a family of 13, said Adam Perry, development manager for Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan.

The program will commemorate its 30th year of operation in 2020, having started as a ministry of the Archdiocese of Detroit’s Christian service department before Catholic Charities took over the initiative in 2016. Over the last four years, Catholic Charities has served 983 families, totaling $422,081 in aid, which is given to parishes to distribute to the nominated families.
